College Scholarship Guide 2013-2014

John Gomez, Lake View Urban Ventures Scholar

Jessica Schrantz, Northside College Prep Perfect ACT Score Scholar

Rocio Meza, Social Justice Gates Millennium, Posse & Wentcher Scholar

Riley Jones, Brooks College Prep City Treasurer’s Scholar & McKinsey Diverse Young Leaders Scholar
Rocio Meza, Social Justice, Class of 2013, Cornell University, Class of 2017

Rocio was the recipient of three prestigious scholarships: Gates Millennium, Posse, and the Ernest Wentcher Foundation Scholarship. Rocio is a proud activist whose efforts helped to bring back her teachers, her principal, and restored AP classes at her high school.

Rocio's advice to would-be scholars: “Really know yourself well enough: your dreams, your aspirations and your skills. That way when you have to write about yourself in personal statements and in scholarship essays you can easily articulate what sets you apart from everyone else. Expect real dedication and hard work because applying for scholarships is a long process. With that being said, don’t procrastinate.”

Riley Jones, Gwendolyn Brooks, Class of 2013, Columbia University, Class of 2017

Riley’s impressive list of awards includes two CPS strategic scholarships: City Treasurers Black History Essay Competition and the McKinsey Diverse Young Leaders Scholarship. Others scholarships include Phi Beta Kappa and Jackie Robinson. His mother and counselor proved most helpful in his scholarship search. Together, he and his mom printed off the CPS College Scholarship Guide and put it in a binder that he checked often. With an exceptionally high ACT score and GPA, Riley was a standout student.

Riley’s advice to would-be-scholars: “I would say three things: (1.) Never wait to start on your application. Too many things happen in between. (2.) Don’t let disappointments in one scholarship lead to you not applying for more. Every scholarship is different. The only way you don’t have a chance for sure is if you don’t apply. (3.) Write well!”

Shshank Karn, Senn High School, Class of 2013, Middlebury College, Class of 2017

Shshank was the recipient of two CPS strategic scholarships: the Posse Scholarship and the Ernest Wentcher Foundation Scholarship. He maintained a high unweighted GPA and served as both Local School Council Representative and President of The National Honors Society. He had the opportunity to participate in spreading awareness about the United Nation’s Millennium Development Goals in his community. This has helped him obtain a global perspective.

Shshank’s advice to would-be scholars: “Rejection from scholarship organizations and colleges doesn’t necessarily mean that one is not capable of anything, but it means that there is room for one to grow. Also, frequent visits to career coaches and counselors do not hurt.”

Haaris Pervez, Northside College Prep, Class of 2013, Northwestern University, Class of 2017

Haaris was the recipient of two CPS strategic scholarships – the Dolores Saxton-Walker Scholarship and the Ernest Wentcher Foundation Scholarship. In addition, he was awarded the Coca-Cola Scholarship. Despite all this, Project ARC is Haaris’ proudest achievement to date. Project ARC is a student-run nonprofit organization engaging youth to help third world countries. With Haaris as Executive Director, over the last four years, Project ARC has raised $35,000 in monetary and commodity donations while mobilizing over 40 volunteers.

Haaris’ advice to would-be scholars: “I would advise all high school students to challenge themselves with not only their academics, but also their extracurriculars. Find something you love and see it through.”
Dear students, parents, guardians and school-based staff:

The School Counseling and Postsecondary Advising Department of CPS’ Office of College and Career Success is pleased to provide you with the 2013-2014 CPS Scholarship Guide. The goal of this guide is to provide a resource that can help CPS students successfully plan for financing their college/post-secondary programs.

The Facts:

CPS is the nation’s third largest urban school district with over 400,000 students, 87% of them coming from low-income families. According to a report released last October by the College Board, the average overall cost of attendance at an in-state 4-year university was approximately $22,261 (for students who did not receive financial aid).

College Enrollment for CPS Students:

The district’s college enrollment rate is currently 56.5%. In order to optimize this percentage, it is imperative that we ensure all college-bound CPS students have a comprehensive college and career plan that includes a solid financial plan to cover the cost of college attendance.

The Playing Field:

According to a study released by the Pew Foundation on September 26, 2012, A Record One-In-Five Households Now Owe Student Loan Debt, forty-four percent (44%) of households headed by someone 35 years old and under had student loan debt in 2010.

In order to level the playing field, it is critical that you carefully research your college options, apply early, and visit each campus prior to making a final decision. Review the college’s graduation rates, cost of attendance and student loan default rates by using the U.S. Department of Education’s College Scorecard website: http://www.collegecost.ed.gov/scorecard/index.aspx

The Importance of Scholarships:

Last year, $400 million dollars in scholarships were offered to CPS graduates. Many of those students would not have been able to attend college without those scholarships. In order for students to cover the cost of college attendance without over-reliance on student loans, we encourage them to use this guide to identify scholarships and create a plan for success.

- This guide does not contain an exclusive listing of available scholarships. We strongly encourage you to develop a scholarship profile on What’s Next Illinois and search for scholarships. Other resources include scholarship books at the library, working with your counselors, teachers, and college and career coaches at your school to help you find a scholarship that matches your profile.

- Many colleges and universities provide their own scholarships. Be sure to visit their websites and enter the word “scholarships” in the search box. You should be able to find out about the merit, need, talent and programmatic scholarships that are available to incoming freshmen.

We wish you the best in your college and scholarship searches. Included in this guide is the CPS 12th Grade Individual Learning Plan (ILP) which provides you with a detailed college success plan. Please use it to map out your college plan. Send an e-mail to collegescholarships@cps.edu to let us know the helpfulness of both the guide and the ILP.

Sincerely,

Barbara Karpouzian,
Director, School Counseling & Postsecondary Advising

Marcia Boyd,
Project Manager (Scholarships & WNI)

Scholarship Tips
For Students, Parents and Guardians

Get Organized and Ready to Work
• Finding and applying for scholarships is labor intensive; you must be methodical and highly organized. Your search will feel like adding a sport, club or part time job to your schedule. Make the time. Schedule 2-3 hours of each week to research and to write.
• You need a box of manila folders and a small file box to deal with all of the paperwork. Make a file folder for each scholarship and organize by deadline.

Beware of Scams
• Legitimate scholarship providers do not charge application fees and do not charge you a fee to “pick up” your scholarship.
• NEVER respond to emails requesting your social security number.
• Do NOT pay any person or company to research scholarships for you.
• After you apply to college, ask the Financial Aid Director about institutional scholarships.
• When in doubt talk to a counselor or teacher.

Research
• Use online search tools and sign up for free email alerts.
• Find out if your parents or guardians' employers offer scholarships.
• Check with local businesses in your neighborhood, local alumni clubs of college offer scholarships.
• Find the scholarships for which you are eligible.

Renewable/Non renewable
• Know if the scholarship is renewable. If so, you may have to meet certain criteria and complete a process for renewing the scholarship each year. Find out the requirements and keep any paperwork related to them for your records.

Master Schedule
• Maintain a scholarship calendar or assignment notebook.

Essays
• Nearly every scholarship application requires essays. Allow plenty of time for drafts and ask your English teacher or another teacher or mentor to give you feedback. Answer the question and allow for at least three drafts.
• Write online applications in Word. Copy and paste online essays after proofing.

Recommendations
• Find out if counselors or teachers have a process or forms you must complete or request system for requesting recommendations.
• Provide your recommender with a stamped addressed envelope.
• Send a thank you note to your recommender.

Scholarship Deadlines
• Verify the deadline with the scholarship provider. Missing a deadline is the easiest way to disqualify your application and all of your hard work will be for nothing.
• Verify if deadline is a due date or a postmark date.

Tracking
• Mail your scholarship applications and follow up.
  — Call or email to confirm your application was received and when winner(s) will be notified.
  — Pay for Certified Mail/Return Receipt Requested at the Post Office for a Delivery Confirmation which provides the date and time your documents are received or a Signature Confirmation on which provides the date, time and the signature of the person who received it.
• Make copies of every application you submit.

Scholarship Opportunities for DREAMers*

The majority of the listed scholarships are open to all U.S. citizens, however a few are exclusively for DREAMers.

*A DREAMer is defined as a non-U.S. citizen or permanent resident high school student who qualifies for in-state college tuition under the Illinois’ HB-60 State Legislation and who will benefit from the Illinois DREAM Act, a provision that supports children of immigrants in Illinois signed by Governor Pat Quinn in 2011.

College Funding Sources: Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Plan for Achieving Self Support (PASS)

SSI is a program that pays monthly benefits to people with low incomes and limited assets who are sixty-five years of age or older, are blind, or have other disabilities. Children can qualify if they meet Social Security’s definition of disability for SSI children and if their income and assets fall within the eligibility limits.

The Social Security Administration may also approve a Plan for Achieving Self Support (PASS), in which a student is able to set aside income and resources that are being used toward a specific vocational goal (such as college tuition) and still receive SSI payments. However, be aware that earnings from employment may affect SSI benefits.

For more information on SSI and PASS, contact your local Social Security Administration office or consult www.ssa.gov/disability/.

Glossary

Accredited: In the U.S., colleges and universities are accredited by one of 19 recognized institutional accrediting organizations. Programs are accredited by one of approximately 60 recognized programmatic accrediting organizations. [Accrediting organizations that are “recognized” have been reviewed for quality by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation or the United States Department of Education. Accreditation is a major way that students, families, government officials, and the press know that an institution or program provides a quality education.

AGI (Adjusted Gross Income): All taxable income less IRS allowable adjustments to income. This figure is from U.S. IRS tax forms. For parents this figure is item number 73 in Step Four of the FAFSA and for students, it is item number 35 in Step Two.

Academic Year: A period of at least 30 weeks of instructional time, traditionally September through May, during which a full-time student is expected to complete at least 24 semester hours or credits. The length or dates may be defined differently for an institution that has trimester or measures program length in clock hours.

Community College: Sometimes called junior college or two-year college. Students can take classes, and then transfer to a four-year school, or they can earn certificates, diplomas or associate’s degrees.

Cost of Attendance: The total cost of attending a post-secondary institution (college, university, vocational & technical schools, or graduate schools) for one academic year. The cost of attendance usually includes tuition, fees, room, board, supplies, transportation, and personal expenses.

CSS Profile: The College Scholarship Service Profile is a financial aid form that many colleges and universities use to determine how much non-federal financial aid a student may be eligible for.

DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals): In 2012, the Secretary of Homeland Security announced that certain people who came to the United States as children and meet several key guidelines may request consideration of deferred action for a period of two years, subject to renewal, and would then be eligible for work authorization. Deferred action is a discretionary determination to defer removal action of an individual as an act of prosecutorial discretion. Deferred action does not provide an individual with lawful status.

DREAMer: A non-U.S. citizen or permanent resident high school student who qualifies for in-state college tuition under the Illinois’ HB-60 State Legislation and who will benefit from the Illinois DREAM ACT, a provision that supports children of immigrants in Illinois signed by Governor Pat Quinn in 2011.

EFC (Expected Family Contribution): The amount a family is expected to contribute to a student’s education. EFC is calculated based on family earnings, net assets, savings, and size of family and number of family members in college.

FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid): The form that must be completed by students and parents applying for Federal Title IV student aid: www.fafsa.ed.gov. Note: do NOT use fafsa.com or fafsa.net.

Federal Stafford Loan (also, Federal Direct Loan): These student financial aid loans are obtained through banks, lending institutions or colleges. To qualify, students must be enrolled in a college degree program at least part-time. The loans may be subsidized (need-based, typically for low-income students), or unsubsidized (not need-based so any student can apply). Students apply by filling out the FAFSA. Formerly called the Guaranteed Student Loan.

FSEOG: Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant. This federal government program provides need-based grants to low-income college students, and is administered through the school’s financial aid office.

Federal Work-Study: The Federal Work-Study Program provides part-time jobs for undergraduate and graduate students with financial need, allowing them to earn money to help pay education expenses. The program encourages community service work and work related to each student’s course of study.

Federal Pell Grant: Need-based federal grant of up to $5,550. Size and eligibility are determined by financial need. Pell Grants are given only for undergraduate or teacher education programs.

Financial Aid: Financial assistance in the form of scholarships, grants, work-study, and loans for education.

Financial Need: The difference between the cost of attendance at a college/institution/university and the Expected Family Contribution.

For-Profit School: Educational institutions that are run by private, profit-seeking companies or organizations.

Full Time: Generally a student who is enrolled for 12 credits or more is considered at full time enrollment.

Graduate Student: A student who holds the bachelor’s degree and is studying for an advanced degree.
GPA: Grade Point Average: The average grade earned by a student, figured by dividing the grade points earned by the number of credits attempted.

Grants: Financial aid awards that do not have to be repaid. Grants are available through the government, state agencies and colleges.

Illinois Monetary Award Program (MAP) Grant: MAP is available from the Illinois Student Assistance Commission (ISAC) to Illinois residents who are undergraduates at an Illinois college who are enrolled in at least three (3) credit hours. The MAP grant is applied to in-district tuition.

Loan: A type of financial aid that is available to students and parents. Education loan programs have varying interest rates and repayment provisions. An education loan must be repaid. The Community Foundation Loan programs are for students and provided that they are paid according to the payment schedule, no interest is charged.

Major: An academic major, major concentration, concentration, or simply major is mainly a U.S. and Canadian term for a college or university student’s main field of specialization during his or her undergraduate studies which would be in addition to, and may incorporate portions of, a core curriculum

Merit-Based: Financial aid for which financial need is not used to determine the recipient. The recipient may be determined by students’ athletic, academic, or artistic abilities.

MPN: Master Promissory Note. This form promises repayment, and is signed by a student or parent when taking out a PLUS or Stafford Loan.

Need Analysis: Process used to determine student's need for financial assistance by comparing COA (cost of attendance) with the EFC (expected family contribution).

Need-based: Need-based financial aid is reserved for low-income students.

Net Price Calculator: Calculator that allows prospective students to calculate an estimated net price at an institution using the following basic formula: Price of attendance minus grant aid. Based on the information entered by the student, an average net price of attendance is generated based on what similar students paid in previous year.

Non-Renewable Scholarship: A scholarship that is awarded one time only.

Part Time: Generally a student who is enrolled for 6 – 11 credits is considered at part time enrollment.

PLUS Loans: Loan parents can take out to pay for their dependent child’s education expenses (Parent PLUS Loans). Graduate students may also take out loans through the PLUS loan program (Grad PLUS Loans). PLUS loans are not based on need (they do not require submission of the FAFSA) and cannot exceed the COA (Cost of Attendance) minus other financial aid received.

PSAT/NMSQT (Preliminary Scholastic Assessment Test / National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test): Practice test for the SAT usually taken in the sophomore or junior year of high school. PSAT scores are used to qualify students as National Merit semifinalists and finalists, which may make them eligible to receive merit-based scholarships from private foundations or their university or college.

Renewable Scholarship: A scholarship that is awarded for more than one year. The student may need to reapply or maintain a specified GPA to retain the scholarship each year.

SAR (Student Aid Report): An output document is generated for a student by the Federal application processor. The SAR contains financial and other information reported by the student on the FAFSA. The student’s Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is printed on the front of the SAR and is the figure used by colleges to determine eligibility for aid.

SAT: Scholastic Aptitude Test: a standardized aptitude test for college admission developed by the College Entrance Examination Board, consisting of questions testing verbal and mathematical skills that are graded on a scale from 200 to 800 points and according to percentile rank.

Scholarships: Funds used to pay for higher education that do not have to be repaid. Scholarships may be awarded based on any number of criteria, such as academics, achievements, talents, and affiliations with various groups, or career aspirations. Scholarships do not have to be repaid.

Scholarship Acceptance Forms: An official document issued by the scholarship provider listing the scholarship award offered to the applicant. It must be completed and returned by the applicant for the provider.
Stafford Loan: A federally financed student loan. There are two types of Stafford Loans:

- Subsidized Stafford Loan – After filing the FAFSA students with financial need may be eligible to receive the subsidized Stafford Loan, which does not charge interest until the student graduates or leaves school.

- Unsubsidized Stafford Loan – Unsubsidized loans are available for students who do not file the FAFSA or do not qualify for the subsidized loans. Although loan payments are not required until after the student graduates or leaves school, interest charges will accrue (accumulate to be paid at a later date) while the student attends school.

Transcript: A list of all the courses that a student has taken at a particular high school or college with the grades that the student earned in each course.

Undergraduate Student: A student in a university or college who has not received a bachelor’s degree.

Unmet Need: The amount of financial aid eligibility that is not provided by the institution.

What’s Next Illinois (WNI): What’s Next Illinois (WNI) is the state of Illinois’ free web-based high school, college and career planning tool. It contains comprehensive information and tools to help students and parents navigate the college and career preparation processes. Chicago Public Schools have customized accounts and every CPS sixth-twelfth grade students have access to the tool. Included in CPS’ version of WNI, are two free web-based ACT, SAT, PSAT and GRE test prep tools.

Work Study: A program, awarded by the college, through which students work part-time to help fund their education.
